

ITINERARY

AT WORLD'S END, NEWFOUNDLAND AND LABRADOR

An adventure destination for the intrepid and curious, Newfoundland promises unique experiences in nature as well as a warm, welcoming culture inextricably linked to the ocean and its natural bounties. The earliest European settlements in North America were remote, outport fishing communities along the Newfoundland coast, and it was in these same unforgiving, icy waters that the Titanic struck an iceberg and sank over a century ago. Yet, visiting Newfoundland doesn't have to be an exercise in "roughing it," as recent years have seen the development of a burgeoning luxury travel sector that beckons to those visitors seeking a truly unique escape off the beaten path.

DAY 2: ST JOHN'S TO FOGO ISLAND

This morning, fly to the provincial town of Gander, once known as the "crossroads of the world" due to its historic role as a major refueling point along the transatlantic aviation route. After collecting your baggage, you will be privately transferred you to the car ferry that will bring you across the stunning Hamilton Sound to Fogo Island.

Just 45 minutes off of mainland Newfoundland, Fogo Island is a fascinating, utterly remote destination where the elemental forces of rock, ice, wind, fire and sea have clashed for over 420 million years to carve a landscape that resembles nowhere else on earth. Proceed to your accommodations for the next three days at The Fogo Island Inn, and get settled into your room. An otherworldly structured perched at what seems to be the edge of the world, The Inn is a luxurious property that features one-of-a-kind guest suites all with dramatic floor-to-ceiling windows that open onto "iceberg alley," handmade furniture and quilts, and wood-burning fireplace stoves. Commissioned by a registered Canadian charity dedicated to the preservation of the island's cultural heritage, The Fogo Island Inn is truly unique in that it's operated as a non-profit organization, with 100% of its operational surpluses reinvested back into the community.
